

October 01, 2013

Indian Green Building Council awards gold certification to New West Block at Knowledge City

The LEED India plaque awarded to West Block-II by the IGBC is recognition of the project achievement. The evaluators made a note of high-quality construction material that has least ecological impact.

LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) India certification provides independent, third-party verification that a building project meets the highest performance standards.